To Whom It May Concern,

It is my absolute pleasure to recommend Soyeong “Selena” Cha, who has worked and volunteered with our organization for the past five years. During that time, I have had the opportunity to watch Selena grow into one of the most trusted, capable, and indispensable members of our team.

Throughout her tenure with Zen Attitude Wellness, Selena has served in a variety of roles, including Administrative Assistant, Billing Specialist, Billing Manager, and operational support across multiple clinic locations in Seattle, Bellevue, and Hawaii. No matter the title, Selena consistently approaches every responsibility with exceptional professionalism, accountability, and a commitment to excellence.

What sets Selena apart is her remarkable ability to think critically and solve problems independently. She rarely brings a problem without also presenting a thoughtful solution. More often than not, she arrives with a completed project or a well-developed plan already in motion. She demonstrates the rare ability to think strategically while simultaneously managing the operational details necessary to execute successfully.

Selena has played a significant role in improving our billing and accounts receivable processes, helping streamline revenue collection while also improving patient satisfaction. Her communication style is characterized by transparency, sincerity, and calm professionalism, allowing her to navigate challenging financial conversations with both compassion and effectiveness. Through her efforts, patients feel heard and supported, while the organization benefits from greater efficiency and accountability.

In addition to her financial and operational contributions, Selena has been instrumental in developing systems, workflows, and reporting processes that have strengthened our organization as a whole. Her exceptional organizational skills ensure that projects remain on track, deadlines are consistently met, and important details are never overlooked. She has a keen eye for identifying errors and process improvements, often turning potential mistakes into valuable learning opportunities for those around her.

Perhaps the greatest testament to Selena's character is the level of trust she has earned within our organization. Over the years, she has been entrusted with sensitive financial information, human resources matters, and operational responsibilities that require discretion, integrity, and sound judgment. She has consistently demonstrated all three.

As a Korean immigrant pursuing her Master's degree in Data Analytics, Selena embodies perseverance, resilience, and an extraordinary work ethic. She has successfully balanced academic achievement with meaningful professional contributions, continually seeking opportunities to learn, grow, and create value for others. Her unique combination of analytical capability, operational expertise, leadership potential, and emotional intelligence makes her an exceptional candidate for any organization fortunate enough to hire her.

Without reservation, I offer my highest recommendation for Selena Cha. She is one of those rare individuals who consistently exceeds expectations, elevates the people around her, and leaves every organization stronger than she found it. I am confident that wherever her career takes her next, she will bring the same dedication, intelligence, and professionalism that have made her such an invaluable member of our team.

Please feel free to contact me should you require any additional information.

Sincerely,
Phi Lan Nguyen, L.Ac., MSAOM
